4 of 4 review helpful Never underestimate the power of a vacuum cleaner By C Ebeling Our Man in Havana published in 1958 just months before Castro's coup captures the earlier Cold War years in a Havana that was a pit of intrigue though the unanswerable questions of who is an agent and who isn't and to what recognizable side does anyone belong make it comic and very dangerous at the same time This is the story of an ex MI6 's man in Havana is Wormold a former vacuum cleaner salesman turned reluctant secret agent out of economic necessity To keep his job he files bogus reports based on Charles Lamb's Tales from Shakespeare and dreams up military installations from vacuum cleaner designs Then his stories start coming disturbingly true ... First published in 1959 against the backdrop of the Cold War Our Man in Havana remains one of Graham Greene's The ultimate chronicler of twentieth century man's consciousness and anxiety William Golding As comical satirical atmospherical an entertainment as he has given us The Daily Telegraph London Abo
